- ✓ Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?
- ✓ How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- ✓ What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

We charge you a fee monthly in arrears. The investment advisory fee is a percent of your advisory account for wrap fee and tradition advisory accounts. This means that the more assets there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and we therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. We have a gold fee schedule which includes investment advisory services, quarterly financial reviews, tax analysis, retirement analysis, investment analysis, insurance analysis, social security analysis and trust/estate review We also have a silver fee schedule which includes investment advisory services, bi-yearly financial reviews and tax analysis. Financial planning services are part of your investment advisory fee. For separate financial planning services, we charge a fixed or hourly fee.

For clients in a traditional advisory program, custodial transaction charges are not included in the investment advisory fee and are by you to the custodian.

For clients in a wrap fee program, asset-based fees associated with the wrap fee program will include most transaction costs and fees paid to SEI Private Trust Company, (“SEI”) who has custody of these assets, and therefore are higher than a typical asset-based advisory fee.

You will also pay other fees and costs related to our investment advisory services and investments in addition to our advisory fee, that you will pay directly or indirectly. Categories of the most common additional fees and costs you pay include mutual fund, index fund, or exchange traded fund, which shall be disclosed in the fund’s prospectus (i.e., fund management fees, initial or deferred sales charges, mutual fund sales loads, 12b-1 fees, surrender charges, IRA and qualified retirement plan fees, and other fund expenses), mark-ups and mark-downs, spreads paid to market makers, fees for trades executed away from custodian, wire transfer fees and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- We recommend the brokerage and custodial services of SEI and TD Ameritrade. They provides us with research and support services, at zero or reduced costs. This arrangement creates an incentive for us to use them.
- Occasionally our firm sponsors educational events in conjunction with product sponsors. This arrangement creates an incentive for us to recommend such products.
